Before January 1954, the gun People's Committee had notified the pan chief when payment of the gun tax was due, and he in turn notified each household in his pan.
2. The pan chief is at present responsible for collecting the tax from each household in his pan. The tax is turned over to the ri People's Committee, then to the gun People's Committee, and finally to the Central Bank. Those failing to meet the 31 March deadline will be charged with a five per cent fine. The tax ranges from 7 to 742 won for each household.
